NEWS AND COMMENT.

REV. DR. J. T. BAGWELL becomes associate editor of the Charlotte Critic.

THE Mecklenburg County Commissioners assessed the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad in that county at $6,000 per mile.

BUSINESS failures in the United States and Canada for the past week number 215 against 220 the week previous.

HARRISON has appointed the notorious ex-Congressman SMALLS, from South Carolina, to be Collector of Customs at Beaufort in that State.

HARRISON is said to be falling from grace. He spends most of his Sundays on board WANAMAKER'S yacht, the "Restless" in company with BLAINE and WINDOM.

THE new Cotton Compress at Wilmington has power sufficient to compress an ordinary bale of cotton to a thickness of five inches. The press, fixtures &c., tips the beam at 190 tons.

JOHN NICHOLS and LOGE HARRIS have both been "left out in the cold" by Mr. HARRISON in his distribution of the spoils in the "Old North State," much to his credit as regards the former.

GENERAL credence is given the rumor that the President is afraid to call an extra session of Congress. The Republican majority is so slim that he prefers waiting for the hoped for re-inforcements from the new States.

QUAY and WANAMAKER have shook hands over the dark chasm. The basis of the compromise is understood to be that Mr. FIELD, to whom WANAMAKER tendered the postmastership when he first entered the cabinet, shall have that position and that QUAY be allowed to name the surveyor of the port and the collector of customs.

ELIHU WHITE, of Edgecombe, falls heir to the collectorship of this district. There is a tradition in Washington that Mrs. WHITE, who is an Indianapolis lady, is one of the numerous clan who call the Excentive "Cousin Ben," which fact accounts for Mr. WHITE'S appointment. CHEATHAM, the colored member from the second district made a strong fight for YOUNG, but of no avail.

CORPORAL TANNER is inclined to be personally thrifty with all of his recklessness in wasting the people's money. He has just appointed his daughter, a girl just out of school, to be his confidential clerk at a salary of $1,800 a year. Quite a snug salary to step into right out of school. Miss TANNER'S father is a very prudent man. He proposes to "make hay while the sun shines," for he knows there are breakers and storms ahead.

POOR BLAINE has been completely "snowed under" by the canonized saints of the present White House regime. It has made him sick. The Plumed Knight has not yet learned the trump card of the brethren, but he will improve in time. Any man who can make as much money as he did, on the sly, is not to be kept in the background. Benjamin and John will, in the near future, see James break loose in a new role if their profuse piety pans out well.

PRESIDENT HARRISON was greatly outdone when it was learned that "BILLY" CHANDLER would again represent New Hampshire in the United States Senate. And small wonder, for it was a very sharp slap in the face for President HARRISON, as it was an open secret that the administration was supporting Dr. GALLINGER, CHANDLER'S principal opponent. Score one more vote for the anti-administration Republican Senators whenever the fight begins. And somebody will have a "happy time on the inside."

IF all reports be true, there is dissatisfaction all over North Carolina among the Republicans. In nearly every county they are breaking ranks, so to speak. In Watauga county, which has heretofore given a good Republican majority, the party is said to be in a bad fix. It has no leader and those heretofore numbered among the "faithful" are openly renouncing the party and leaving it. The Enterprise, the organ of the party, has been sold at auction. The paper, presses, fixtures, and all were knocked down for $4.75.

THE Civil Service Commission is proving to be a "thorn in the side" of the present administration, notwithstanding its two Republican members. It seems to be starting out with the determination to have the law enforced impartially. Before starting for the West the commissioners called HARRISON'S attention to the fact that under the law all appointments made in the Census Bureau should be taken from its list of eligibles. This question was brought up just before Messrs. THOMPSON and ROOSEVELT were appointed members of the commission, and the Republicans indulged in the hope that it had been finally shelved, but the commissioners intend to compel Mr. HARRISON to say yes or no as to these Census Bureau appointments. It is believed that he will decide against the civil service commission.

THIS "GET TOGETHER" BUSINESS.

There was something inexpressibly comical in Mr. Randall's imperious injunction to the democrats to "get together."

If he is politically a practical joker he must have laughed himself to sleep that night at the serious way in which his humor was received.

Like Lord Lundreary, Mr. Randall has "flocked all alone by himself" on the tariff question. He repudiates the democratic policy, but stands at the cross roads and roars, Why don't we all get together?

We have been watching the effect of this cry of alarm during the last few weeks. The republican leaders have received it with an undeniable wink of the left eye and a labial contortion which strongly resembles a grin. The democrats, on the other hand, have been properly astonished that the gentleman who has spent his time in tearing them apart should suddenly scream out, "Get together!"

This sonorous warning on the part of Mr. Randall rolled Southward along the slopes and through the defiles and gullies of the Alleghany range, awakening multifarious comments by our exchanges in the interior and on the sandy shores of the Gulf. It reverberated through the West also, climbed the snowy peaks of the Rockies and awoke the echoes on the Pacific coast.

"Get together!" cried the statesman. He was evidently convinced that if the democrats will call a truce to their factional quarrels and advance in solid phalanx they can, so to speak, whip the enemy out of their boots at the next Presidential election.

This is refreshing nectar to sip, and, besides, it is true. The democratic weakness is its prevailing differences of opinion. Its tariff reform policy is simply ten years ahead of the time. That is to say, the country is suffering from general debility and the democrats urge calling in a tariff doctor. The republicans declare that the patient simply has "a spell," will be out in a day or two, and that a doctor will disturb the household. So, rather than have a doctor, the republicans will take the risk of sending for a Coroner. In the course of a year or two we shall learn that the trouble is not a "spell," but a chronic disease requiring heroic treatment.

The call to "Get together!" is therefore very timely, because when democrats are in power again they will insist on giving the patient a mild tariff cathartic and that will probably save him from a long sickness.

But the funny element in the situation is this—that when Mr. Randall, who represents a small minority in the democratic party, who is as fervid a protectionist as most republicans, lifts up his voice and cries, "Get together!" he simply means Come over on my side and let me lead you to victory. He resembles the jolly good fellow who held on to a lamppost and observed as the Seventh regiment went by, "This is the first time I ever saw the whole regiment drunk at the same time." If this jolly fellow had been in a moralizing mood he would have followed Mr. Randall's example and declared that the Seventh must give up their cups or their military prestige would be bedraggled.

If Mr. Randall will come over to the democrats and not insist that they shall come over to him we might indeed have blue skies and the robins would chirp once more. But it is ludicrous to see him at the head of a small contingent beckon to the main army and shout, "If you expect to win you must get together!" The democrats are already "together," it is Mr. Randall who must "get!"

At an Evangelical Alliance meeting the question of Christian unity was discussed. Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians tried to devise some common platform on which all denominations could stand.

At last an Episcopalian brother remarked that unity was most devoutly to be wished, a necessity of the times. He insisted further that it was easy of accomplishment—nothing in the world could be easier or simpler—and the wonder was that everybody had not seen this at the outset. If you will all become Episcopalians, he said in tones of lofty condescension, the thing will be done at once and in the right way.

So Mr. Randall tells the democrats to "Get together!" and when the party replies, "All right; come over here where you belong," he retorts, "No, that isn't what I mean; you come over to me, and then we shall be unanimous, don't you see?"

Yes, we see perfectly. There is no kindling wood in our eyes. But the patronizing manner in which the leader of the minority expresses his willingness to accept the support of the majority is deliciously ludicrous. The modesty which prompts him to declare that we can all think alike if we will only think as he does is something beautiful to contemplate.

But by all means let us "get together."
—New York Herald Editorial.

SAM RANDALL thinks two years from now will be early enough to begin considering the question of "who will be the next Democratic candidate for the Presidency."

The Future of Electricity.

Thomas A. Edison said in an interview with a reporter of the Pittsburg Dispatch: "You ask me about the future of electricity. It is the coming motive power. It will be used on all the railroads some day, but the point is to get an economical engine. My theory is to have immense dynamos located all along the line of the road, and have the electricity conveyed from these stationery engines to the locomotives by wires through the rails. For example, I would put two big engines between New York and Philadelphia, and enough power could be furnished to whisk the limited at the rate of 100 miles per hour.

But this is the point I have been working on for years, to convert heat directly into electricity without the intervention of boilers, steam and all that. What an enormous amount of expense could be saved if this could be done. Think of putting something into the heat of that natural gas fire and making electricity out of it. It can be done. I feel it in my bones, and just now I have a suspicion that I am on the right track, but it is a pesky problem one that can be worked out only in time.

I have been experimenting with an electric road in New Jersey. I had rails laid as they put them down on railroads, but the machine would run off the track in going around the curves. I then raised the curve to an angle of forty degrees and the motor went around all right. It looked as if the engine would topple over, but it didn't. You know in a centrifugal machine you can make a car go clear around a circle in the air without leaving the track."

If we were to put a two-line local in the most obscure corner of the paper, which stated that a certain business man charged more for his goods or kept an inferior quality than his competitors, that man would employ a bull-headed slugger to come around and kill us next morning. But if we were to ask that same man for an advertisement of his wares, he would say, "No; I don't believe in advertising; no one reads the papers."—Exchange.

The Debts of the Southern States.

The thirteen Southern States, including Kentucky and Missouri, have funded debts aggregating $96,158,643, besides an unfunded debt amounting to $20,000,000 more. The funded debt of the South is thus distributed:

	Funded Debt.	State Tax in Mills.
Virginia,	$23,550,696	4.0
North Carolina,	4,300,000	3.0
South Carolina,	7,012,741	5.25
Georgia,	8,752,305	3.5
Alabama,	9,214,300	5.5
Florida,	1,275,000	4.0
Mississipp,	1,105,150	3.5
Louisiana,	11,982,621	6.0
Texas,	4,237,730	2.5
Arkansas,	12,029,100	4.0
Kentucky,	674,000	4.75
Tennessee,	2,500,000	3.0
Missouri,	9.525,000	4.0
Total,	$96,158,643
Average State tax in mills,		4.07

Of these Southern States Kentucky alone has a sinking fund, and in her case it nearly covers the small indebtment. Three-quarters of the debt of Texas and about the whole of Mississippi's are due to the school funds of those States, so that the net debt is insignificant in each case. In round figures, $110,000,000 is the Southern aggregate, including the unfunded debt.

"GET THERE."

Rev. Sam Jones Tells Charlotte People How to Do It.

Rev. Sam Jones lectured in Charlotte recently. His subject was "Get There." The Chronicle reported the lecture and from that paper the following is gathered:

Ladies and gentlemen, I believe the subject for the lecture is "Get There." The Eli is left off, for, you know, I am conscientiously opposed to slang, and, as this is a cultured audience, I suppose you agree with me.

The highest expression of society, so-called, is the dude and the dudine. A dude was a pimple on society. You have waked up in the morning and found a little pimple on your body—that's a dude. Squeeze it and it's a dudine.

I might spend the hour in discussing how to get there financially, but when you have got there financially you havent got very far. Avarice will eat the heart out of a man as surely as whisky will burn his blood out. Selfishness is the meanest thing on earth. Hell is nothing but selfishness on fire; and it is a wonder to me that some men don't burn from spontaneous combustion.

When there is no other use for a man in the Lord's vineyard, he is sent to the Legislature. That is the rule; of course, citizens of Charlotte are exceptional.

To get there in the truest sense, presupposes, first, some one wants to go; then comes the route, the way, and, third, the destination.

He liked a live town, a live lawyer. We need live preaching, because the preachers are heading the procession. God help those preachers who are good for nothing but to marry the living, and bury the dead. A live sinner could run a mile while such a preacher was putting on his boots.

If every fellow now in the church got to heaven, you'd have to sleep there with your breeches under your head.

Mr. Jones gave a rap to the habit of preaching from manuscript. A manuscript sermon is a dissertation on truth, when the truth itself was needed. When a man has cramp colic, he does not need a dissertation on mustard, but wants the mustard applied.

I like that word enterprise—an enterprising man. When you meet a difficulty, go over it, or around it, or under it; if you can't do that, go throught it. Such a man will get there, and be sitting down when Eli comes up.

I like Cleveland better than any President since Hickory Jackson, because he had a backbone as big as a circus pole. He would like to see the Governor of every State, the Mayor of every town, execute the laws or call a public meeting and resign.

Above all, give me a preacher who isn't afraid of man or devil. You've got God's best man when you've got a preacher who isn't afraid of anything that wears hair or hide.

The preacher who will stand in his pulpit from year to year without saying a word for prohibition, belongs to the devil, from his heels to his head. There is no evil this side of perdition which is a worse enemy to God than whiskey.

I'd rather be a liberal gambler, than a stingy Methodist. If that gambler was converted he would be a power, but the other is already converted, and he ain't worth a cent.

The Young Men and the South's Future.

Wilmington Messenger]

We have never held otherwise than that farming is the most independent, desirable and honorable of occupations. The first man Adam, the progenitor of the race, was a farmer and had to cultivate the soil. George Washington, most illustrious of Americans—first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen—to quote the memorable words of General Henry Lee, father of our peerless Robert E. Lee, was also a farmer and a good one. So no youth reared on the farm should become disgusted and abandon the most desirable life to embark in business that may be more lucrative or may be a grand failure. The young men in Southland, as a class, are no drones in the busy hive of life. They are full of push and go. The fault is not that they are deficient in grit and grip, but that they are too soon wearied of country life, and instead of magnifying the calling of the farmer by making two blades grow where there was but one blade, they bundle up and hie them to towns and cities to throw themselves into the mighty rush and roar of commerce. It is a mistake. If they should make millions they have not added to their happiness unless they act as God's almoners and stewards and distribute the great part of their gains to the poor and the fering.

The "Messenger" is the steady friend of young men. We love their companionship, and we admire their robust life and intense ardor and kindling enthusiasm. They are the great factors in the rehabilitating of the South. When the war ended in disaster and darkness, it was the returning soldiers who went to work with stout hearts and steady nerves and resolved wills and made the wasted fields once more to blossom as the rose. The old men sank down in despair, and thousands of them went to their graves in heaviness of heart. The cruel, merciless harrow of desolation had not only torn up their fair field but had entered their souls.

The hope of the South since April 1865, has been the young, virile, earnest men. The vrterans are now toiling on with silvered hair, for they too have aged with the intervening almost quarter of a century. Those that were middle-aged at Appomatox and at Durham, are now "in the sere and yellow leaf," and

"Nature in them stands on the very verge,
Of her confine."

The youth now—those between 20 and 35—are the men who are to build up the South and with large vision and free scope, and wise action, and a "pull altogether," they are doing great things for our highly favored section. They are worthy of the men of heroic mould and unfaltering tenacity of will and splendid energy, who stood up in arms against fivefold their own numbers for four long years of endurance and butchery, and then plucked the flower hope from the wide and wild desolations of a whole land. In the hands of the young men of the South, the future, under God's merciful and benignant Providence, is safe. They will stand by civil and religious liberty and help maintain with heart and hand free and gracioul government on these shores.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucus lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucus surfaces.

OBSERVER.

Established in 1825 by E. J. Hale, Sr.

Z. W. WHITEHEAD, Editor and Proprietor.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

THURSDAY.....JULY 4, 1889.

OUR EFFORTS APPRECIATED.

Nothing so thrills the heart and soul of an editor as to know that his work is appreciated by those whose interests he is endeavoring to promote. This, however, is not the case in every instance, but be it said to the honor and glory of the patriotic and chivalrous people of Fayetteville, such is not the case with them, as their efforts in the past will abundantly testify. And on last Monday afternoon the editor of this paper was made the recipient of a handsome gold-monnted cane, presented by a number of the professional and business men of Fayetteville, as a token of their appreciation of the merits of the OBSERVER'S Illustrated Trade Issue. Of course we accepted, with thanks, in the same good spirit in which it was given, tendering in return our sincere thanks for the honor thus conferred, pledging henceforth our best efforts for the upbuilding of Fayetteville and Cumberland County. Indeed such a flattering appreciation of our feeble though zealous efforts to lay before the world the many attractions and advantages of Fayetteville and this community, was far beyond our most sanguine expectations—far indeed beyond anything that our fancy could imagine. Such testimonials, however, on the part of the public is cheering and encouraging to us, and will not only strengthen our arm, but will stimulate us to still greater efforts in the future, for the advancement and promotion of the material interests of our people, individually and collectively. We can therefore offer no better index to our future efforts than the last issue of the OBSERVER. To the public spiritedness of the business men of Fayetteville is largely due the success of the undertaking; while the performance of our part was no less a pleasure than our conception of the high and responsible duties of an editor.

Be assured, then, fellow-citizens, that the present is highly appreciated, and we shall ever keep green in our heart the pleasant memories of the occasion and treasure in our bosom the warmest friendship and admiration for the people of Fayetteville. With your aid and co-operation in the future the day is not far distant when the Cape Fear Metropolis will enjoy that conspicuous place in the commercial world to which she is so richly entitled.

"SOMETHING ROTTEN IN DENMARK."

The whole State of North Carolina has been thrown into a whirl of excitement by the recent charges preferred against Dr. Eugene Grissom of the Insane Asylum at Raleigh. Public sntiment and common decency demand that a thorough and impartial investigation be made, and if Dr. Grissom is adjudged guilty, then there is no punishment severe enough for him; on the other hand, if he is not guilty, the people of North Carolina will not be slow to vindicate him and honor ably acquit him.

Few men in North Carolina have enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the people of the State of "every shade and grade," to the extent that Dr. Grissom has, and if he has knowingly and wilfully abused the confidence reposed in him, then he should be made to suffer the penalty of his crime.

The specific charges are signed by Dr. Sion H. Rogers and John W. Thompson, and are substantially as follows:

Charge 1: That Dr. Eugene Grissom, while superintendent of the North Carolina Insane Asylum, has been guilty of gross immorality with female attendants and others of this institution. Under this charge it is alleged that in 1888 Dr. Grissom had illicit intercourse with Miss Nora Burch, an attendant; that in the spring of 1887, he made immoral and lecherous advances and proposals to Mrs. Lily Perkinson; that between November 1st, 1886, and April 1st, 1888, he made amorous proposals to Miss Ella N. Edwards, an attendant; that in 1887 he made insulting advances to Miss Delia F. Morris, an attendant; and in the same year to Miss Rosa Bryan.

Charge 2: That Dr. Eugene Grissom, while superintendent, has been guilty of mismanagement of and cruelty to patients under his charge and of perpetrating indignities upon them. Under this charge it was presented that between November, 1886, and April, 1888, he knocked down Mrs. Nancy Flood, a patient, pulled her hair, choked her and cursed her; the same not being done in self-defence; that during the same period, he dashed water in the face of Miss Mary Foy, a patient, because she would not obey him and has at other times treated this patient with unwarranted violence and cruelty; that during the same period he caused two patients, Mrs. Overman and Mrs. Whaley, who had been fighting in the hall, to be locked in a room together, telling them to fight as long as they were so inclined, and that the patients fought till they were badly bruised and mutilated; that during the same period he offered a gross personal indignity to Mrs. W. T. Howle, a patient; that during the present year it was made known to him that one of the attendants had personally assaulted D. O. Smith, a patient, and that the same had not been done in self-defence, yet the said superintendent kept in service the said attendant; that at some time during the year 1883 he stamped in the face of W. P. Upchurch, a patient, while Upchurch was held down by four strong men; that in 1887 the said superintendent crully choked Henry Cone, a patient, and threw a bucket of water in his face, this not being done in self-defence; that at some time during the year 1889 he caused to be strapped to the bed J. D. L. Smith, a patient under his charge and kept him so strapped for several hours, this being done as a punishment for something said patient had done, and while he was being strapped, said superintendent abused said Smith for something Smith had said in relation to the conduct of the superintendent; that sometime between 1886 and 1889, he caused the same patient to be strapped to a bed for several hours as a punishment for something he had written to the superintendent; that in 1887 the superintendent caused James E. Harvey, a patient, to be roughly handled and he himself kicked him without any just cause for doing so; that during 1887 he caused Jonathan Bass, a patient, to be roughly treated, having him strapped to the bed for more than thirty hours; that during the same period he ordered an attendant to duck the Rev. Elisha R. Britton, a patient, in a bath tub; that in May, 1889, he choked and beat Jno. Nutt, a patient, without any cause; that at various and sundry times for the past six years he has inhumanly treated patients under his charge and confined them in said institution by strapping them to the bed and otherwise abusing them, by cursing them without reason; and among said patients so treated were Zeb. Williams, Miss K. Davis, Miss Lou Gaskins, Mrs. Whaley, Mrs. Oglesby, Mrs. Perdu and others.

Charge 3: Dr. Eugene Grissom, while Superintendent of the North Carolina Insane Asylum, has appropriated the properety of the said institution.

Specification 1. That said superintendent during the years 1885, 1886, 1887 and 1888, has sent away from the ayslum for purposes not connected with the said institution large quantities of the produce of the garden and farm and institution.

Specification 2. That said superintendent during the years 1885, 1886, 1887, 1888 has sent away from the asylum for purposes not connected with the said institution large numbers of turkeys belonging to said institution.

Specification 3. That the said superintendent during the same period has appropriated to his own use large quantities of provisions belonging to the said institution.

Specification 4. That the said superintendent during the same period has used and appropriated drugs and medicines belonging to said institution for purposes not connected with the said institution.

From the best we can learn Messrs. Rogers and Thompson are gentlemen of unimpeachable character and integrity, though there are two sides to every question, and we shall hear both sides before rendering our verdict. In the meantime the investigation will continue and our readers will hear both sides. Whether those engaged in the prosecution of the investigation at present withdraw or not, the investigation will be made.

Senator J. F. Payne, of Robeson, is looked upon as the coming man for the next President of the State Farmer's Alliance, the constitution rendering Hon. S. B. Alexander as ineligible for re-election.

Health very good in this section.

The season is good, and those farmers who thoroughly prepared the soil, planted in time, manured, and then cultivated properly, have a fine prospect of an abundant harvest in the fall of 1889.

The Maxton and North-western R. R. Co., have been organized and are offering to tax Quwhiffle Township with their road provided we subscribe ten thousand dollars stock. Let us bestir ourselves and induce them to come. Now is our time. Don't wait till some other locality will beat us.

The many friends of Mr. A. Daniel McLeod, formerly of this township, but now of Red Springs, sympathize with him in the loss of his charming little daughter who died on the 12th of June, in her third year.

MAXTON DEPARTMENT.

MR. EDITOR:—After a long delay I resume my place in the columns of your excellent paper.

Since my last there has been a series of meetings held at this place under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. Such an awakening has rarely, if ever, been equaled in the State. Our town has a population of about 1,000 souls, and there has been, up to last night, three hundred and fifty conversions from the town and surroundiug country. Those earnest Christian workers, W. P. Fife and W. S. Prior of your town, did a good work here, the extent of which God alone knows. We have been blessed with some of the best sermons I ever listened to from Dr. Hill, Revs. Hales, Price and others. All denominations took an active part in the exercises. The meetings closed last night. Notwithstanding the rain the churches were crowded at almost every meeting. On Sunday there were 47 accessions to the Presbyterian church, 19 to the Methodist church and 4 to the Baptist church. God grant that we may all meet around His throne.

We are having a very rainey spell just now. Having had occasion to see a good many farms for ten miles around, I can say that I never saw a better prospect for crops of every kind. Corn especially, is a very fine prospect.

A great deal of sickness in our section. Many deaths from dysentery. Our Doctors are on the road nearly all the time.

EROM.

I wish to add to last week's report that the number of professions of religion has grown from 259 to 360, of which 300 are whites and 60 colored persons. Communion services are to be held here or near here by the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist denominations in the near future.

Col. McRae, the genial editor of the Maxton Union, has been confined to his bed for about fourteen days past, but we are glad to note his appearance on our streets again, although considerably worsted by his sickness.

The venerable Rev. Hector McLean, who for the past fifty years has been the faithful and beloved pastor of Antioch and Philadelphus churches, was, about four o'clock this morning, summoned by the angel of death to receive the reward of those that love Him. He will be sadly missed in his community.

We were glad to see on our streets a day or two ago, Mr. Daniel J. Currie, of John's Station, N. C., who was this year, the First Honor Man at the University of N. C. Mr. Currie expects to teach next year.

On Monday, Mr. W. B. Harker, who for four years has filled with satisfaction to all, the position of postmaster, retired in favor of Mr. J. P. Smith.

The recent rains have been very favorable to the crops in this section, and if the seasons continue the farmers have little to fear but the grass. H.

Last Saturday morning Mr. John D. McGeachy, residing between here and St. Paul, had the misfortune to lose his kitchen and its entire contents by fire. Origin unknown. He has the sympathy of all our community.

There was a double death, funeral and burial near Red Springs last week. A Miss Conoly and her nephew. She was a maiden lady, aged about 45, and he a lad of 18 or 20 years.

Last Sunday Rev. Jordan Cobb, a theologee, of New York Baptist Seminary, preached in the Presbyterian church here.

Miss Lizzie Munn, of Mayesville, who has been spending sometime with friends here, left this week for her home, and a certain batchelor is mourning and refuses to be comforted.

Miss Katie McGeachy, of St. Paul, is visiting her uncle, Mr. A. L. Shaw.

Miss Lizzie Malloy, is visiting friends near Maxton.

Mr. Vance McGougan, a student of Wake Forest, is now at home for vacation.

The Young Men's Christian Association which existed here some time ago, is to be revived, and a meeting looking to the interest of the same is set for next Friday night.

Rev. A. McQueen, pastor of the church here, contemplates a trip to Georgia this week to preach at certain points there by special invitation.

Prof. J. W. Fuller, the able staff correspondent of the Robesonian, is now at his home at Moulton.

W. H. and J. D. Powers, who have been on a visit to their grand-father, have returned.

The Hall Bros. have had a handsome sign painted and erected over their repair shops, and Dr. McLeod has a neat one placed on his new office. SCRIBBLER.

Crops are looking very well considering the dry weather. The farmers have commenced hilling.

Miss Effie McLean near Rhodes died the 11th. She was eighty years old. Her father came from Scotland nearly two hundred years ago.

Our Sunday School seems to be progressing finely. We add new members to the roll every Sunday. The children are real smart. They have good lessons. Dr. C. M. Benton has moved back to Newton Grove to practice. We were sorry we had to give him up.

There will be a new mail route run from Godwin to Little River Academy. It starts on the first of July. It will be convenient to the people on that side of the River. W.

A meeting of the Confederate veterans of Harnett county will be held at Lillington July 5th, the object of which is to perfect a permanent organization to be known as "The Confedeaate Veterans Association of Harnett county."

The farmers are complaining of too much rain. The Cape Fear is on the eve of an overflow, and if this happens great damage will be done to the crops along the river. Corn and cotton look well, and generally, the outlook is encouraging.

Several brick stores are soon to be started in Dunn. The Godwin hotel is nearly finished, and the town is graddally improving.

Meeting of the Board of Assessors to Value the C. F. & Y. V. R'y Co. for Taxation.

Pursuant to a call of the Chairman of the County Commissioners of the County of Cumberland, made in accordance with sections 46 to 56, Machinery act of the North Carolina General Assembly at its session of the year 1889, the Chairmen of the Boards of County Commissioners of the counties through which the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway runs met in the rooms of the Fayetteville Cotton Exchange in Fayetteville, on the 27th day of June, 1889, and organized into a Board of Assessors for assessing the tax valuation of the property of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway Company under the provisions of said act. Upon a roll of the counties it was found that the counties were represented or not represented as follows: Cumberland, A. B. Williams; Richmond, Peter McRae; Robeson, not represented; Harnett, John M. Hodges; Moore, John Shaw; Chatham, W. H. Hatch; Randolph, S. A. Henley; Guilford, J. H. Millis; Forsyth, N. W. Sapp; Rockingham, not represented; Stokes, not represented. It appearing that a quorum was present, the above named representatives and Chairmen of the Boards of County Commissioners of their respective counties organized and constituted the Board. A. B. Williams, of Cumberland, was elected Chairman, and Henry L. Cook, of Cumberland, Secretary of the Board;

Mr. Jno. M. Rose, Secretary of the C. F. & Y. V. Railway company, filed a report of the road bed and stock; also a statement of the side tracks, warehouses, depots, buildings and section houses on the line of the road, both of which were duly sworn to. It was moved and carried that the thirteen miles of new road reported be assessed at the amount of $2,700 per mile, the same as last year for the mileage then reported.

After consideration of the reports the Board determined the value of the road bed, right of way, superstructure, main and side tracks, depot buildings, grounds, section and other houses and tools of the road, under sections 46 to 56 of the Machinery act of 1889, to be $674,460.88, and the rolling stock to be $120,875, making a total of $795,335.88 which is apportioned among the several counties through which the road runs as follows:

Richmond County,	10 7-10 miles,	$ 34,067	75
Robeson "	27 9-10 "	88,830	61
Cumberland "	31 7-10 "	100,929	50
Harnett "	10 6-10 "	33,749	36
Moore "	12 7-10 "	40,435	46
Chatham "	30 "	95,516	77
Randolph "	21 8-10 "	69,408	90
Guilford "	42 3-10 "	134,678	56
Forsyth "	11 "	35,022	93
Rockingham "	10 6-10 "	33,749	37
Stokes "	20 7-10 "	66,906	53
Surry "	19 6-10 "	63,040	12
Total miles,	249.8	$795,335	88

A motion was made and carried that each of the twelve named counties pay the Secretary, for his services, one dollar each, those present to pay cash; those not represented to be written to and demand made for the same. Those counties represented paid. Motion to adjourn prevailed—adjourned.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true record of the proceedings of the Board of Assessors for the purpose therein named, and that the above is the true valuation placed and apportionment made by said Board of Assessors.

Spring Hill Academy.

Reported for the Observer.]

The Commencement exercises of this popular institution were of an unusually interesting character this year. The announcement that the Hon. Thos. H. Sutton of your city would deliver the literary address on the occasion, drew hundreds of of people here, where he is greatly admired for his vim, pluck and ability.

Notwithstanding the heavy rain fall the crowd was large, well behaved and the day passed off most pleasantly for all.

By way of introducing Mr. Sutton, Mr. McLean said: "If, as has been said, want of taste is want of sense, then most of the introductory addresses which it has been my fortune to listen, by their folsome extravagence, not only a want of taste but a want of sense as well. To-day, however, I feel that I speak words of truth and soberness when I say that we are about to be addressed by a gentleman easily at the top—where Mr. Webster says there is al ways room—in the forum and in the halls of legislation."

Mr. Sutton, after a graceful exordium, announced his subject as "Character."

His speech fairly bristled with well taken points and feliciteus illustrations, and was, I think, properly characterized as able, eloquent, sensible and practical; and was listened to with profound attention.

I might say it was ever and anon enlivened with quiet and subdued flashes of wit and satire—genuine "attic salt". Any report of a speech so coherent, by an unpracticed hand especially, would be unjust to Mr. Sutton and I will not attempt it.

The recitations and declamations were all of a superior character and showed painstaking and training, varying in many respects from the monotonous programs usually carried out on such occasions. All-in all the Commencement of 1889 will form a bright page in the history of this time honored institution.

Several young ladies and gentlemen from Fayetteville are rusticating at McFadgens' Spring—among them are Misses Maggie Pemberton, Alice Pemberton, Janie Williams and Della Matthews, Mrs. Mary Jennings, Mr. Duncan Rose and E. G. Styron.

Miss Emma Murchison and Master John R. Leak are visiting Mrs. W. J. McDiarmid.

W. F. Leak, Esq., spent Sunday here. He is as pleasant sociably as in a business capacity.

Mrs. M. R. Jackson, from Texas, has been visiting her many relatives in this State and spent some time here at her old home. She has now gone to spend a while with Mrs. Neill McKay at Summersville in Harnett County.

Miss Lina Mason, who has been in our midst for a month visiting her sister, Mrs. M. D. Clarke, has returned to her home in Aucilla, Florida.

J. D. Williams, Jr., spent Sunday with the batchelors at McFadgen's Spring.

Our Hamlet sees a boom—"not so far away"—Fayetteville may feel the effect if she behaves well under the trying circumstances.

Mr. Pearson's meetings benefitted us much. Our Sunday School has been better lately. BUT ANON.

FEARFUL WRECK

On the Norfolk and Western Railroad.

LYNCHBURG, VA., July 2.—A special from Liberty to the Advance says: A fearful wreck occurred on the Norfolk and Western railroad near Thaxton's, about thirty miles above this city. It is reported that forty persons were killed.

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—President F. J. Kimball, of the Norfolk and Western railroad, who has headquarters in this city, when seen this afternoon in relation to the accident this morning says that while the wreck is a serious one and has resulted in a loss of life the report telegraphed from Lynchburg that forty persons were killed is exagerated.

Mr. Kimball is in direct telegraphic communication with the General Manager of the road. The information furnished him up to 1 o'clock this afternoon is that five persons were killed, nearly all of whom were trains-hands, and quite a number of persons injured. The train wrecked was known as No. 2, which left Roanoke a few minutes before midnight. A heavy rainstorm prevailed throughout Virginia for about forty eight hours, and the train was moving slowly and behind time when it ran into the washout about 1:30 this morning near Thaxton's. The locomotive and several cars were thrown into the ditch, but the sleeper remained on the track. The cars caught fire after falling into the ditch and quite a number of the passengers were severely burned, in addition to those injured by the wreck. Telegrams were at once sent to Roanoke for assistance, and in a short time a special train arrived from the city bearing a fire company and a number of physicians.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

LYNCHBURG, July 2.—A special to the Advance gives the following particulars: A fearful catastrophe occurred about one mile wast of Thaxton's at 1 o'clock this morning on the Norfolk and Western railroad, by which forty passengers were killed. The accident was caused by a washout on a high filling. My informant tells me that there were only about seven of the crew of and passengers saved. All of the cars were burned. Capt. Rowland Johnson was in charge of the train, and is mortally wounded. Baggage-Master Ford is said to be very fatally hurt. Major J. C. Cassell, superintendent of the Lynchburg Division was on the train and received serious injuries.

L. B. Summers, of Abingdon, postal clerk, was bruised up considerably. The other postal clerk, J. J. Ross, of Abingdon, was killed. All of the physicians and many of the citizens of Liberty went to the wreck as soon as the information reached here and did all they could for the wounded. Pat. Donovan, engineer, was burned up, as was also a fireman named Bruce. The train dispatcher was also burned. Several of the wounded were brought here and taken to the sanitarium. W. C. Head, of Cleveland, Tenn., is among the dead. These are all the particulars obtainable as yet.

Woodland High School.

MR. EDITOR:—Allow me space in your most valuable paper to say something about Woodland High School, which closed the 21st of June. The people of Cedar Creek are proud of this school and their teacher.

Woodland is situated on the bank of the beautiful Cape Fear. Locality is healthy and the people enjoy the cool air which sweeps across the boundless fields of corn and cotton. The people of the neighborhood are industrious and will not uphold idleness among them. Prof. Phillips, the principal, is much loved as a teacher and a Christian gentleman. Professor Phillips is one of the best teachers in the State. He is one of the Bingham School students which was then under the management of the celebrated William Bingham. Rev. E. J. Edwards delivered the address at the close, which was ably done.

I have one word to say to parents if they wish their children to be prosperous men and women in the land they must give them an education.

Prof. Phillips has gone to his home in Wilson to spend the summer vacation.

While he is from among us, he has carried with him the best wishes of the people of Cedar Creek. D. C. D.

Job Work to J. H. Benton's Job Office.

He proposes to compete with any Printing House in the South, and believes he is fully able to work as cheap or cheaper than most of them. Why, you may ask? He does his own work; has a very small expense attached to his office and his entire expenses are a mere trifle, hence he can save you money by patronizing him. He guarantees satisfaction in every particular or no charge for work.

Patronize him--it is Money in your Pocket.

A protrated meeting is going on at Red Springs this week.

The Hope Mills Dramatic Club will give a grand concert at Hope Mills Hall next Saturday night.

An excursion from Millboro to Wilmington passed through here yesterday on their return.

The Fayetteville Cornet Band, under the leadership of Mr. D. F. Wemyss, has kindly consented to furnish the music at the meeting to-night.

H. R. Upchurch, of Chatham, was arrested in Wilmington the other day, charged with stealing $212.12 from Mr. A. W. Brafford, from the same county.

The steamer Cape Fear, under command of Capt. Tomlinson, will hereafter leave Wilmington for Fayetteville on Saturdays and Wednesdays, until further notice.

The men engaged at work on the excavation in the bed of the Cape Fear River for the stone pier here, last week struck for higher wages and were discharged, and their places most filled by others.

The Board of County Commissioners meet again next Monday to complete their labors for the month of June. Hence we decided to give the proceedings of the meeting last Monday and next Tuesday at the same time.

The heavy rains having prevented the delivery of Mr. John G. Shaw's address before the Highland Grove Sunday School last Sunday, he will deliver the same next Sunday at 4 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

First Cotton Blossom.

Mr. John McDuffie was the first to place an 1889 cotton bloom on our table this year. Mr. Pleas' Neal being "second best."

Wash Out.

A "washout" on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway between here and Greensboro at Nobody Creek, delayed the South-bound passenger train six hours Saturday last.

Never Too Late.

It is never too late to do good, and we wish to tender our thanks to Mr J. H. Benton for courtesies in getting out our Trade Issue. Our best wishes attend him for a prosperous career in the future.

Lightning's Work's at Red Springs.

Lightning killed a pair of fine mules for the Red Springs Lumber Company about five miles from Red Springs Monday evening last. The driver was knocked a distance of several feet away and badly stunned.

Enlarging Their Machine Shop.

The OBSERVER is glad to note that Messrs. Sutton & Henzi are enlarging their Machine Shop in this city by the addition of a new building 30x70 feet. This is another evidence of the progress and thrift of the town.

Death of Dr. Foulks.

Dr. Jas. F. Foulks, of Oakland, Cal., died a few days ago, at the ripe age of 60 years. The Doctor was a native of Guilford, but resided in Fayetteville for about 25 years, from '52 to '79, where he has a number of frieds who mourn his death.

For Colorado.

Much to the regret of many of our people, Rev. R. T. Gray and family made ther departure yesterday for Denver, Colorado, their future home, where Mr. Gray goes to accept a call in that city. During their stay in Fayetteville they made many warm friends who wish for them many years of happiness in their new field.

Terrible Freshet.

The heavy rain-fall in and around these parts has visited the people of the Cape Fear section with another freshet, second to that of the memorable Sherman freshet. The low-lands tributary to the Cape Fear River are pretty much all innundated and the loss to the farmers will be heavy. In Moore and Harnett counties pretty much the same state of affairs exist, and one gentleman from Harnett told us yesterday that every bridge over Deep River was washed away as far down as he had heard from.

Boton Japanese Plums.

This writer has seen many specimens of fine fruits, but Mr. J. S. Breece has our thanks for the finest plums of the Baton Japanese variety we have ever seen grown in this State. Their flavor is exquisite—unequalled by anything we have seen or tasted. Their delicious flavor and absolute maturity demonstrates the fact that this can be easily made one of the finest fruit-growing sections in the State.

Valuation of Franchise.

The Board of Assessors to value the franchise of the C. F. & Y. V. R'y Co. composed of the Governor, Auditor and Treasurer of the State, have fixed the value of the franchise of said road at $86,810.49. This is in addition to the valuation fixed by the Board of Assessors reported in another column, and the different counties ought to be notified by the Governor's Board.

Personal Pencilings.

Capt. S. C. Rankin returned from a Southern trip Monday.

We were glad to have a call last week from Rev. P. R. Law, a noted and able Divine of Lumberton.

Mrs. C. J. Hedgpeth and Miss Mollie Vann left last Monday morning for a few months under the shades of old Hillsboro. Mr. Hedgpeth will leave to-morrow to join them for a few days.

Dentists.

The following officers were elected in Greensboro last week for the North Carolina State Dental Association for the ensuing year:

President—Dr. Sid. P. Hilliard, Rocky Mount; First Vice-President, Dr. George W. Whitsett, Greensboro; Second Vice-President, Dr. W. J. Conrad, Winston; Secretary, Dr. H. C. Henning, Concord; Treasurer, Dr. J. W. Hunter, Salem; Essayist, Dr. C. A. Rominger, Reidsville.

The Cumberland Mills.

The Cumberland Mills have stopped their spinning machinery for sixty days, and during the stoppage will put new floors in the mill, and will throw out a large part of the present spinning and carding machinery and replace it with the latest improved machinery built by the Lowel Machine Shops. They are going to run their looms through without stopping, making a handsome line of cottonades, the yarns for which are being made by the Fayetteville Cotton Mill.

Officers of the Fayetteville Exchange.

The annual meeting of the Fayetteville Exchange was held in their rooms in the Thornton Block yesterday afternoon and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—R. M. Nimocks.
Vice-President—J. W. Hollingsworth.
Secretary and Treasurer—Will S. Sheetz.

DIRECTORS.

A. H. Slocomb, A. J. Cook, E. F. Moore, N. W. Ray, Dr. H. W. Lilly, S. C. Rankin. The President's annual report and other parts of the proceedings we could not get at this week will be forth-coming in our next.

Mr. Joshua S. Hall.

Mr. J. S. Hall departed this life at his home on Haymount, Sunday, June 30th, 1889, aged about 25 years. Mr. Hall was quite a young man and gave promise of a prosperous and useful career in the future. He was at one time editor of the Evening News, and displayed decided literary ability. For the past year or so he has been filling a position in the Government Printing Office at Washington, but on account of his health returned to Fayetteville for recuperation. Mr. Hall was a devout christian and universally esteemed by his host of friends in Fayetteville. He leaves a wife and many near and dear relatives to mourn his death.

Explanatory.

In the midst of the worry and confusion incident to issuing the OBSERVER'S Trade Issue last week, we inadvertantly omitted to say that the cut for the Catholic Church here, (which has several faithful and devout members among many of our best people,) failed to arrive in time for that issue, which would account for its failure to appear. It was no intention on our part to leave it out, and had the order reached our artist in time, as it should have done, this would not have been necessary. Having fixed a day for the Trade Issue to make its appearance, we could not wait longer than we did. However, so soon as the cut arrives it will be given a conspicuous place in our regular edition.

Confederate Pensions.

We are reliably informed that the recent act to provide pensions for disabled Confederate soldiers will not take effect, or become available this year. The tax levied to raise the money, under the new pension act, will go on the present tax lists that are now being made out, and cannot be realized or made available until the taxes for 1889 are collected.

We mention this, as there has been an idea abroad that the applications must be filed before July 1st of this year. This is a mistake, because the levy of 3 cents on the $100.00 was only authorized to be made for pensions by the act of February or March 1889, and the tax books for this tax will not be in the Sheriff's hands till this Summer or Fall. So that this year pensioners will receive under the pension law formerly in force, until the new act can be made available, and then the old act stands repealed. Soldiers and their widows can get their applications made out and filed, by the Clerk of the Superior Court or Register of Deeds, without charge or cost, as the act provides that no fee is to be charged.

Don't fail to read the new advertisements in this issue of Jno. D. Williams, Mrs. Ayer, Greensboro Female College, W. D. Gaster, A. B. Williams, Concert at Hope Mills, John McDuffie, J. C. Haigh, Jr., B. R. Huske & Co., H. I. McDuffie and John H. Robinson.

Evangelist for Fayetteville Presbytery.

Rev. Dr. J. B. Mack, of Fort Mill, S. C., has been elected Evangelist of Fayetteville Presbytery by the committee appointed to make the selection. Having heard this noted Divine, we unhesitatingly pronounce him one of the ablest preachers in the State,—just the man, in our opinion, for the place. Hardly a better selection could have been made.

Rev. T. P. Barclay Installed.

The installation services of Rev. P. P. Barclay, as Pastor of the Presbyterian Church here last Thursday night, were very interesting, and participated in by many of the people of Fayetteville of the various denominations. The music for the occasion was superbly grand, and furnished by Novitzky's Quartette. The Church was handsomely and appropriately decorated for the occasion. The order of exercises were as follows:

Opening Anthem,
Hymn,
Scripture Lesson,
Prayer,
Sermon by Rev. P. R. Law,
Anthem,
Charge to Congregation by Rev. P. R. Law.
Anthem,
Charge to Pastor by Rev. Jas. S. Evans,
Constitutional Questions to Pastor, and Congregation, by Rev. P. R. Law,
Prayer,
Doxology,
Benediction.

Encampment.

The State Guard are ordered into camp July 9th, and the entire thirty companies composing it will be expected to be promptly on hand. Each company will do its best to exceed in numbers, in discipline and general excellence. The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry will go, and if they carry full numbers will not be surpassed in any particular by any other company in camp. It is a matter of public importance to the State, and to Fayetteville especially, that this time-honored and flourishing old company shall go with full ranks. All the members are willing, but are mostly dependent upon the will of their employers, as to whether they will attend or not. We urge upon the business men of Fayetteville the importance of allowing the members who are in their employment to go, and of making arrangement for them to go, and letting them see that the employers are willing and anxious that they should go. This company is a part of Fayetteville itself. Its history cannot be written without the company forming an important part of it. Therefore the intrest of Fayetteville is the interest of this grand old company, which in age ante-dates the very name of our city. It is looked upon by the State as its principal and most progressive military organization, and we cannot afford to ignore its interests in the slightest degree. Hence, in conclusion, we urge our business men to think seriously about the matter, and take it upon themselves to let their employees know that their services will be excused for the short space of ten days during their stay at the State Guard Encampment.

We know our business men will cheerfully act in this matter, when they come to think of its importance.

Re-Union of Company "D.," 2nd North Carolina Cavalry.

The following letter explains itself:

MR. EDITOR:—I was called on by "Rex Camerous," in the last issue of the Scottish Chief, to name a day on which there shall be a Re-union of Company "D." 2nd North Carolina Cavalry. In compliance with his request, I shall name November 21st, in the City of Fayetteville, the day that Jeff. Davis will be there. I recommend that E. M. Waddill, James Williams and John W. King be a committee to provide quarters and make arrangements for the re-union. I hope all the old members of the company who see this and feel able will contribute something to the Confederate Veteran Camp Fund, by sending their contributions to the FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.

The deceased was an holy woman, who after the manner of those of the old time, adorned herself with the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which in the sight of God is of great price.

Her life for the most part, was one of disappointment, sorrow and bodily suffering, which she bore with a marvellous patience and submission of spirit, while yet she was ever in full sympathy with the more joyful lot of those around her. It is the precious comfort of her kinsfolk and friends that she is now at rest in the tender bosom of that Savior who was the hope of her life and is now her joy in the state of the dead. J. C. H.

WORSE THAN MARRIAGE.

A bachelor, old and cranky.
Was sitting alone in his room;
His toes with the gout were aching,
And his face was o'erspread with gloom.

No little ones' shouts disturbed him,
From noises the house was free,
In fact, from the attic to cellar
Was quiet as quiet could be.

No medical aid was lacking;
The servants answered his ring,
Respectfully heard his orders,
And supplied Him with everything.

But still there was something wanting,
Something he couldn't command:
The kindly words of compassion,
The touch of a gentle hand.

And he said as his brow grew darker
And he rang for the hireling nurse,
"Well, marriage may be a failure,
But this is a blamed sight worse."

8th WEEKLY WEATHER CROP BULLETIN.

CENTRAL OFFICE, RALEIGH, N. C.

The reports of correspondents of the Weekly Crop Bulletin show that there has been a marked deficiency of rain-fall, an abnormally high temperature and very much sunshine during the week. All crops have been favorably affected and the outlook is very encouraging, a number of correspondents stating that "the prospect for abundant crops is better than for years."

REMARKS OF SPECIAL CORRESPONDENTS.

EASTERN DISTRICT. Weldon, Halsfax County.—"The warm weather has been very favorable to growing crops." Craven.—"For the last seven days we have had fine growing weather." Edgecombe.—"All crops have responded well to the past week's exceedingly favorable weather." Perquimans—"On account of warm weather and no rain crops have been doing well for the last seven days. Farmers are doing all they can and are in better spirits." Pasquotank—"Harvesting going on. Planting field peas. Cotton growing finely. Irish potatoes being marketed. The weather favorable for the advancement of farm work."

CENTRAL DISTRICT. Burlington, Alamance County—"Harvest about over. Fine yield. All crops growing finely. Some complaint about chinch bugs in corn." Rockingham—"The wheat crop is harvested, and a fine crop it is. The late rains and warm weather have improved the oat crop wonderfully. Corn and tobacco are doing their best." Davidson—"Just about enough rain. All crops are doing finely." Union—"All crops are needing a good rain. The high temperature has benefitted cotton. Corn twisting and garden vegetables withering." Anson—"No rain during last seven days. Farmers well advanced with their farm work. Cotton and corn doing fairly well. The wheat crop is said to be good. Oat crop not very good." Richmond—"Cotton growing rapidly. Corn being laid by and needing rain. Wheat crop will soon be harvested, and is reported as very good." Warren—"Crops looking well and are clean of weeds and grass. Wheat is being harvested and is a fair crop." Granville—"There has been no rain for the past week, but the crops have not suffered as yet. Fine weather for wheat harvesting. Corn has improved. Tobacco growing off finely." Johnston—"the weather is near perfect. Rain might benefit gardens. Planters are contented." Wake—"Fine growing weather. All crops doing nicely." Moore—"No rain in this immediate vicinity since last report. Corn and cotton looking well. Harvest about over. The yield is good."

WESTERN DISTRICT. Pineville, Mecklenburg County—"Cotton and corn still growing finely. The chinch bugs have made their appearance on the corn, but have done little injury so far." McDowell—"The weather continues warm with light rains almost daily and all crops are doing well. The prospect for a plentiful crop is the best for some years." Rowan—It is getting rather dry but no damage done to crops as yet. Local rains in the county. Wheat is thought to be better than usual. Oat crop short. Corn and cotton doing well." Henderson—"The weather for the past week has been favorable, warm and showery. Corn has greatly improved and doing well. Tobacco is looking fine. Peaches will make about one third of a crop. Apples very short and grapes very poor. Gaston—"All crops have made rapid growth during the past week. Even Spring oats and cotton have improved beyond expectation. Oats goods and cotton fully up to the average. Corn, garden stuff and all kinds of fruit are in excellent condition." Lincoln—Good rains in some sections. Wheat all harvested and put away in good condition. Corn and cotton prospects generally good." Cabarrus—"The chinch bug has made its appearance on many farms and has done much injury in some localities. The general wheat crop is above the average. Oats not so good—Winter short and Spring damaged by drougth in May." Mecklenburg—"There have been no rains for the past week here, a light shower or two around us. Gardens, grass, corn and cotton are suffering, still there is no cause for complaint." Catawba—"The temperature was about 90 degrees at noon every day. Spring oats are better than expected. We have fruit of all kinds in abundance. Gardens looking well." Burke—Wheat is now being harvested and reported very good. Fruits are doing well.

In my mail I find the following query, written in a desperate hand:

"'A sheet of paper may move a ton one mile,' says the "Scientific American."

"Now, put away in a much-scented casket are 842 letters of four sheets each, written upon and crossed by Mrs. —— to me before I divided the right to my name with her.

"Mrs. —— now weighs the tenth part of a ton. What I want to know is: Will the 842 letters, representing 3368 sheets, move her in a direct line from me 33,680 miles? If so, where is this paper fuel machine obtainable; and is it easy to hitch a woman to?"—Time.

Good Points in a Woman.

A clear bright eye
That can pierce the sky,
A rounded cheek
Where the roses speak,
A chest so grand
That the lungs expand;
A steady brain
That can bear the strain,
A manner bright
And a spirit light.

Who does not wish for these, and having them wish to keep them, yet when weakness, irregularities, sick headache, nervousness, and inflammations, attack her, restoration can be accomplished by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine designed for woman's use and placed with all druggists for their relief. Sold under the manufacturers' positive guarantee of satisfaction, or money refunded.

FROM THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

Mr. A. E. Hawkes has gained a national reputation as a practical optician, and his celebrated spectacles and spring eye-glas-es are known throughout the United States. We are writing this article with a pair of his new crystalized lenses, and they seem to us as transparent as light itself; and with them the finest print is as clear as in youth.—Editor Christian Advocate.
